

Skin preparation

Before you begin, make sure that all oils and creams have been removed. For best results, it is advisable to remove all body hair. We recommend that if waxing, you allow 2-3 days for the skin to settle; shaving can be done on the day or if using a surgical hair removing cream please do so the day before (24 hours prior).

Application

1. Shake the Microskin bottle well.
2. Use the roll-on from top to bottom in a vertical direction slightly overlapping, followed by left to right in a horizontal direction again slightly overlapping. Do not try to cover the area in one go. Its colour corrects when applied lightly in layers.
3. Apply subsequent layers after Microskin has dried and no wet residue is evident.
4. When Microskin is dry, tap Microseal Powder onto the Microseal Puff and firmly press into the skin. Make sure all areas are covered. Allow the powder to absorb by itself for a longer lasting result. Powder should be put on the powder puff in a very small quantity, this will already do the job and make it not sticky. The whiteness of the powder depends on the amount used and usually is gone in 1-2 hours. If you have more time, you can even apply everything in the evening, before you go to sleep and in the morning Microskin and powder have reacted and you will get the best result.

Helpful Hints

If you apply Microskin on too thickly or use too many layers, it will turn dark, grey, dirty or look bruised. Apply slowly, one layer at a time!
